OFFICIATED BY CYCLE SOURCE MAGAZINE

STAGE ONE COMES FROM THE WORLD'S STRONGEST MAN COMPETITION - ATLAS STONES. BUT WITH WITH V-TWIN ENGINES. Each engine will be weighted with given amounts of weight. Three times competitors must travel a given distance, pick up a motor and return it to the original point where they then have to place it on a shelf. Each time the weight gets heavier and the shelf gets higher.

STAGE TWO IS OLYMPIC DEADLIFTING. OUR BIKER TWIST IS A BARBELL MADE FROM A SPORTSTER HARDTAIL FRAME. All competitors will start with a given weight and after completing the lift they move on. Weight is added at each round until competitors are eliminated.

STAGE THREE COMES FROM THE HIGHLAND GAMES, THE HAMMER THROW. Of course, we have to make this Moto-centric as well so in place of the hammer will be a V-Twin Crank and Rod assembly at the end of a short rope. Longest throw wins.
